4. Advisory Business

A. Firm Description

Founded in 2005, HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS (“Advisor” or “We”) is a small practice offering personalized wealth management services on a discretionary basis primarily to individuals, retirement accounts (IRAs, pension and profit sharing plans), trusts and estates. The principal stockholders in the firm are Theodore X. Koinis (60%) and Michael G. Shebay (25%).

B. Types of Advisory Services

HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS provides investment supervisory services, also known as asset management services on a discretionary basis as agreed to with the client. We primarily manage portfolios of no-load mutual funds for individuals, retirement accounts (IRAs, pensions and profit sharing plans), trusts, estates and other entities. We attempt to customize each portfolio to each respective client's specific needs, goals, risk tolerance and time horizon.

On more than an occasional basis, HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS furnishes advice to clients on matters not involving securities, such as financial planning matters, taxation issues, and trust services that often include estate planning.

C. Tailored Services

HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS attempts to meet each client's specific needs by following the guidelines below when assessing a client's situation. Note, clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities at any time in the process.

- 1) Client investment objectives are identified by assessing the client's risk tolerance based upon their age, income, education, need for cash flows, investment goals, and emotional tolerance for volatility. The information provided by the client will be collected during client meetings, interviews, and/or questionnaires;
- 2) After analyzing a client's financial situation and formulating an investment strategy, we implement the investment strategy through an optimal combination of investments;
- 3) Capital market conditions and client circumstances are monitored; and
- 4) Portfolio adjustments are made as appropriate to reflect significant changes in any or all of the above variables.

D. Assets Under Management

As of 12/31/2015, HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS manages approximately $52,700,000 in assets for approximately 53 clients. Of that, approximately $50,500,000 is managed on a discretionary basis, and $2,200,000 is managed on a non-discretionary basis.

5. Fees and Compensation

A. Fee Agreements

Depending on the scope of work desired by the client, HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS has multiple fee agreements applicable to varying circumstances.

1. Investment Management Agreement

Most clients choose to have HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS manage their assets in order to obtain ongoing in-depth advice and life planning. As goals and objectives change over time, suggestions are made and implemented on an ongoing basis.

The scope of work and fee for an Investment Management Agreement is provided to the client in writing prior to the start of the relationship. The compensation for our services, which includes developing and implementing an investment strategy and objectives, monitoring a client's investment results, and reporting to the client on a quarterly basis, is as follows:

Assets Under Management	Annual Fee
$0 up to $750,000	1.10%
$750,001 up to $2,500,000	.70%
$2,500,001 up to $10,000,000	.50%
Over $10,000,001	.35%

The Advisor reserves the right to adjust the fee schedule for accounts depending on the size and type of account and the services required. In some cases, negotiation of fees may result in different fees being charged for similar services and may be less than the stated fee schedule

2. Financial Planning Agreement

In some instances, clients engage HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS to prepare a financial plan designed to help the client with all aspects of financial planning without ongoing investment management after the financial plan is completed.

The financial plan may include, but is not limited to: a net worth statement; a cash flow statement; a review of investment accounts, including reviewing asset allocation and providing repositioning recommendations; strategic tax planning; a review of retirement accounts and plans including recommendations; a review of insurance policies and recommendations for changes, if necessary; one or more retirement scenarios; estate planning review and recommendations; and education planning with funding recommendations.

Asset allocation recommendations may be provided as part of a financial plan. Implementation of the recommendations is at the discretion of the client.

The fee for a financial plan is predicated upon the facts known at the start of the engagement and is an estimate of hours to complete the analysis based on an hourly rate of $200/hour and quoted on a “not to exceed basis”. Since financial planning is a discovery process, situations occur wherein the client is unaware of certain financial exposures or predicaments. In the event that the client’s situation is substantially different than disclosed at the initial meeting, a revised fee will be provided for mutual agreement. The client must approve the change of scope in advance of the additional work being performed when a fee increase is necessary

3. Hourly Planning Engagements

HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS provides hourly planning services for clients who need advice on a limited scope of work. The hourly rate for limited scope engagements is $200/hour. Analysis is quoted on a “not to exceed” basis. Should the scope of the engagement change, a revised fee will be provided for mutual agreement.

B. Fee Billing

Asset based management fees are charged quarterly in advance based on a percentage of the client's assets under management at the beginning of the calendar quarter.

Fees for planning services are invoiced to the client at the end of each month for actual time and expense incurred by Advisor during that month.

Alternatively, a flat fee in lieu of its hourly rates may be negotiated if the client so requests and will be based on the estimated time and expense incurred by Advisor to complete the desired work. In such instances, 50% of the total fee will be due and payable at the signing of the financial planning agreement. The balance is to be paid at the completion and delivery of the plan. Under no circumstance will advisor collect a fee or portion thereof more than 6 months in advance

C. Fee Payments

Investment Management Fees are usually deducted from a designated client account to facilitate billing; however, clients are allowed to pay by check if agreed to by the firm. The client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account.

Financial Planning and Hourly Engagement Fees shall be due and payable upon receipt of Advisor's invoice.

D. Termination of Agreement

Either the Advisor or the client may terminate the Agreement by written notice to the other party at any time. The client is responsible to pay for services rendered until the termination of the agreement. At termination, fees will be billed on a pro rata basis for the portion of the quarter completed. The portfolio value at the completion of the prior full billing quarter is used as the basis for the fee computation, adjusted for the number of days during the billing quarter prior to termination. Any unearned fees will be refunded on a prorated basis.

The client can cancel the Agreement without penalty within the first five days after the signing of the Agreement.

The Advisor reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 90 days overdue. In addition, HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS reserves the right to terminate any financial planning engagement where a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate, in the Advisor's judgment, to providing proper financial advice.

E. Other Fees and Expenses

1. Mutual Fund Expenses

Mutual funds generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. This fee is generally referred to as the expense ratio and is in addition to the fees paid by you to HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS.

Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies in various publications are after their fees have been deducted.

2. Custodian and/or Brokerage Fees

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, stocks, bonds, certificates of deposit and other investment securities. These transaction charges are usually small and incidental to the purchase or sale of a security and are in addition to the fees paid by you to HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS.

F. Commissions

Advisor does not accept or earn any compensation for the sale of securities or investment products.

6. Performance-Based Fees

HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client. As such, fees are not based on any share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of the managed securities.

7. Types of Clients

HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS offers its services primarily to individuals, retirement accounts (IRAs, pension and profit sharing plans), trusts and estates. Generally, the minimum dollar value of assets required to set up an investment advisory account is $500,000 (which equates to an annual fee of $5,500). However, Advisor maintains the discretion to waive the account minimum as it deems appropriate.

8. Methods of Analysis, Investments Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis

Security analysis methods may include charting, fundamental analysis, technical analysis, and cyclical analysis.

The main sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, inspections of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases.

Other sources of information that HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS may use include Morningstar mutual fund information, Morningstar stock information, Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services, Fidelity Management & Research Co., Advisor Intelligence, and the World Wide Web.

B. Investment Strategies

The primary investment strategy used on client accounts is strategic asset allocation utilizing actively-managed no-load mutual funds. Portfolios are usually a mix of cash, fixed income, equity and alternative asset classes, and are globally diversified to control the risk associated with traditional markets.

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time. Each client executes an Investment Guidelines and Restrictions that documents their objectives and their desired investment strategy.

Other strategies may include long-term purchases, short-term purchases, trading, short sales, margin transactions, and option writing (including covered options, uncovered options).

C. Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Mr. Shebay receives no separate compensation for any such referral.

D. Other Affiliations and Potential Conflicts of Interest

There are no other affiliations or potential conflicts of interests.

11. Code of Ethics

A. Code of Ethics

The employees of HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS have committed to a Code of Ethics that is available for review by clients and prospective clients upon request. The firm will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

B. Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS and its employees may buy or sell securities that are also held by clients. If the possibility of a conflict of interest occurs, the client's interest will prevail. It is the policy of the Advisor that priority will always be given to the client's orders over the orders of an employee of the Advisor, in other words, employees may not trade their own securities ahead of client trades. Employees must comply with the provisions of the HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS Compliance Manual.

Also, neither the Advisor, any supervised person of the Advisor, nor any related person recommends to clients, or buys or sells for clients accounts, securities in which the Advisor or related person has a material financial interest.

C. Personal Trading

To avoid any potential conflicts of interest involving personal trades, Advisor's Code of Ethics addresses personal trading and insider trading policies and procedures. The Code of Ethics requires, among other things, that employees:

- Act with integrity, competence, diligence, respect, and in an ethical manner with the public, clients, prospective clients, employers, employees, colleagues in the investment profession, and other participants in the global capital markets;
- Place the integrity of the investment profession, the interests of clients, and the interests of Registrant above one's own personal interests;
- Adhere to the fundamental standard that you should not take inappropriate advantage of your position;
- Avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest;
- Conduct all personal securities transactions in a manner consistent with this policy;
- Use reasonable care and exercise independent professional judgment when conducting investment analysis, making investment recommendations, taking investment actions, and engaging in other professional activities;
- Practice and encourage others to practice in a professional and ethical manner that will reflect credit on yourself and the profession;
- Promote the integrity of, and uphold the rules governing, capital markets;
- Maintain and improve your professional competence and strive to maintain and improve the competence of other investment professionals.

- Comply with applicable provisions of the federal securities laws.

Advisor's Code of Ethics also requires employees to: 1) pre-clear certain personal securities transactions, 2) report personal securities transactions on at least a quarterly basis, and 3) provide the Advisor with a detailed summary of certain holdings (both initially upon commencement of employment and annually thereafter) over which such employees have a direct or indirect beneficial interest.

12. Brokerage Practices

A. Selecting Brokerage Firms

Absent an existing brokerage relationship, HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS will assist the client with developing a relationship with brokers with which the Advisor has a relationship. Currently, Advisor has an arrangement with National Financial Services LLC and Fidelity Brokerage Services LLC (collectively, and together with all affiliates, "Fidelity") through which Fidelity provides the Advisor with "institutional platform services." The institutional platform services include, among others, brokerage, custody, and other related services. Fidelity's institutional platform services that assist the Advisor in managing and administering clients' accounts include software and other technology that:

- Provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements);
- Facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts;
- Provide research, pricing and other market data;
- Facilitate payment of fees from its clients' accounts;
- Assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

Fidelity also offers other services intended to help HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS manage and further develop its advisory practice. Such services include, but are not limited to, performance reporting, financial planning, contact management systems, third party research, publications, access to educational conferences, roundtables and webinars, practice management resources, access to consultants and other third party service providers who provide a wide array of business related services and technology with whom the Advisor may contract directly.

HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS is independently operated and owned and is not affiliated with Fidelity.

Fidelity generally does not charge its advisor clients separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Fidelity or that settle into Fidelity accounts (i.e., transactions fees are charged for certain no-load mutual funds, commissions are charged for individual equity and debt securities transactions). Fidelity provides access to many no-load mutual funds without transaction charges and other no-load funds at nominal transaction charges.

The Advisor will make recommendations based on the needs of the client and the services provided by the broker/custodian such as ability to execute trades, margin rates, on-line access to accounts, transaction charges, consolidated reporting, duplicate monthly statements, access to mutual funds, including lower sales charges than for direct purchases and lower minimum purchase amounts.

1. Directed Brokerage

In certain occasions, the Advisor does permit the client to direct brokerage on their account. In such instances, the Advisor's ability to manage the account could be severely limited and many of the benefits achieved by clients with accounts at Fidelity may or may not be achieved by clients directing their own brokerage.

B. Soft Dollar Benefits

As part of the institutional programs offered by Fidelity, HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS receives benefits that it would not receive if it did not provide investment advice to clients. While there is no direct affiliation or fee sharing arrangement between Fidelity and the Advisor, economic benefits are received by the Advisor which would not be received if the Advisor did not have an established relationship with Fidelity. Fidelity is providing the Advisor with certain brokerage and research products and services that qualify as "brokerage or research services" under Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Exchange Act"). These benefits do not depend on the amount of transactions directed by the Advisor to Fidelity. These benefits may include: a dedicated trading desk that services the Advisor's clients, a dedicated service group and an account services manager dedicated to the Advisor's accounts, access to a real time order matching system, ability to block client trades, electronic download of trades, portfolio management software, access to an electronic interface, duplicate and batched client statements, confirmations and year-end summaries, the ability to have advisory fees directly debited from client accounts (in accordance with federal and state requirements), a quarterly newsletter, access to mutual funds, ability to have loads waived for the Advisor's clients who invest in certain loaded funds when certain conditions are met and maintained, and the ability to have custody fees waived.

The commission rates for certain customers may be higher or lower for identical or similar transactions, had they been executed at other broker/dealers, especially discount brokers. However, the Advisor believes that the commission schedules for Fidelity are competitively priced when compared to other brokerage institutions

C. Order Aggregation

Most trades done by HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS involve mutual funds where trade aggregation does not garner any client benefit. However, in certain instances, the Advisor may aggregate numerous clients' or funds' purchases or sales as a single transaction. Transactions are usually aggregated to seek a lower commission, lower costs, or a more advantageous net price. The benefits, if any, obtained as a result of such aggregation, are generally allocated pro-rata among the accounts of the clients or the funds which participated in the aggregated transaction.

13. Review of Accounts

A. Periodic Reviews

Client accounts will be reviewed no less than quarterly for performance and adherence to investment policies and may trigger buy or sell recommendations as we deem appropriate. All accounts will be reviewed by Ted Koinis, President

B. Review Triggers

Factors which may trigger a review include but are not limited to changes in a client's financial circumstances, changes in general market conditions, and additional client contributions and/or withdrawals.

C. Regular Reports

Clients are provided quarterly reports which focus on account performance and allocation. Clients will also receive monthly or quarterly reports from their custodian.

14. Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Incoming Referrals

HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS has been fortunate to receive many client referrals over the years. The referrals came from current clients, estate planning attorneys, accountants, employees, personal friends of employees and other similar sources. The firm does not compensate referring parties for these referrals.

B. Solicitation Agreements

No person who is not a supervised person is directly or indirectly compensated in any manner.

15. Custody

All assets are held at broker-dealers, banks or other qualified custodians, which mean the custodians provide account statements directly to clients at their address of record at least quarterly. HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS does not take custody of clients' assets.

Clients are urged to compare the account statements received directly from their custodians to the performance report statements provided by the Advisor.

16. Investment Discretion

A. Discretionary Authority for Trading

HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS will be responsible for selecting the amount of securities to be bought and sold. The only limitations on the investment authority will be those limitations imposed in writing by the client.

The Advisor will also have discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold without obtaining specific client consent. Because the Advisor engages in an investment advisory business and manages more than one account, there may be conflicts of interest over the Advisor's time devoted to managing any one account and the allocation of investment opportunities among all accounts being managed. The Advisor will attempt to resolve all such conflicts in a manner that is generally fair to all of its clients. Advice may be given and action taken with respect to any of its clients that may differ from advice given or the timing or nature of action taken with respect to any particular client so long as it is the Advisor's policy, to the extent practicable, to allocate investment opportunities over a period of time on a fair and equitable basis relative to other clients.

We may aggregate numerous clients' or funds' purchases or sales as a single transaction. Transactions are usually aggregated to seek a lower commission, lower costs, or a more advantageous net price. The benefits, if any, obtained as a result of such aggregation, are generally allocated pro-rata among the accounts of the clients or the funds which participated in the aggregated transaction.

The Advisor is not obligated to acquire for any account any security that we or our officers, partners, members or employees may acquire for their own accounts or for the account of any other client, if in the Advisor's absolute discretion it is not practical or desirable to acquire a position in such security.

B. Limited Power of Attorney

As part of the Investment Management Agreement, client agrees to discretionary management and grants HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS a Limited Power of Attorney (LPOA) to invest, sell, and reinvest proceeds in the account.

17. Voting Client Securities

A. Proxy Voting

Notwithstanding Advisor's discretionary authority to make investment decisions on behalf of clients, HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS will not exercise proxy voting authority over securities held in client accounts. The obligation to vote client proxies shall at all time rest with the client. Advisor shall not be deemed to have proxy voting authority solely as a result of providing advice or information about a particular proxy vote to a client.

Should Advisor inadvertently receive proxy information for a security held in a client's account, then Advisor will make a good faith effort to forward such information on to Client in a timely manner, but will not take any further action with respect to the voting of such proxy. Upon termination of its Investment Advisory Agreement with a client, Advisor shall make a good faith and reasonable attempt to forward proxy information inadvertently received by Advisor on behalf of the client to the forwarding address provided by the client to Advisor.

18. Financial Information

HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS does not have any financial impairment that will preclude the firm from meeting contractual commitments to clients. The Advisor has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past 10 years.

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because HELIOS WEALTH ADVISORS does not serve as a custodian for client funds or securities, and does not require prepayment of fees of more than $500 per client, and six months or more in advance.

19. Requirements for State-Registered Advisers
